HISTORY

CELEBRATING OUR PAST

A historic Yellowstone Trail community with strong ties to the history of the buffalo, Hettinger celebrates its past with pride.

BUFFALO TRAILS

Hettinger native Francie Berg, author of Buffalo Trails in the Dakota Buttes & Buffalo Heartbeats Across the Plains, tells the buffalo story from the last great Native American hunts in this area to saving them from annihilation and the buffalo's resurgence in North America.

Buffalo Trails in the Dakota Buttes takes you on a self-guided tour of 10 sites of historic and current buffalo events, all within a relatively small area of rugged buttes and badlands at the center of the northern plains. Relive the excitement of the last great buffalo hunts by Lakota and Dakota Sioux people, ancient buffalo jumps, the Native rescue of five calves that changed history, and restoration of buffalo herds on tribal lands, private ranches and public parks.

HIDDENWOOD CREEK HISTORICAL SITE

One of ten historical sites included in the Buffalo Trails tour, the Hiddenwood Creek Historical Site is home to an authentic teepee made of Montana Lodgepole pines. The site celebrates the history of Native Americans & the resurgence of buffalo in the area.

HISTORIC BUILDINGS

Hettinger is home to several notable buildings on the National Register of Historic Places. These well-preserved historical sites are beautiful reminders of our community's heritage and history.
